

Terraxotica-Germany

A close-up photograph of the head of a yellow spiny-tailed lizard (Atheris squamigera). The lizard's head is covered in numerous sharp, yellowish-brown spines. Its eye is large and dark, with a vertical slit pupil. The background is dark, making the yellow spines stand out.

Atheris squamigera - Philipp Einfalt

Kalender 2012